

DSNS SHINES UNABATED

Dev Sangha National School (DSNS), Deoghar has once again performed exceptionally well in the CBSE class 12 and class 10th examination, the results of which were declared recently. With a 100 percent pass percentage in both the examinations, the school has proved itself as an institution of excellence performing exceptionally well in the CBSE class 12 examination. In Class CBSE 12 examination this year, 23 students secured 90% and above while 52 students secured between 80 to 89% marks. Similarly, 63 students got between 70 to 79% marks. Also there is a constant increase in the percentage of marks secured by students over the years.

Similarly, the results of CBSE class X examination are also equally encouraging. Here also, with 07 students scored 90% and above while 36 students scored between 80 – 89% and 32 students between 70 – 79%. Overall, 54 out of 134 students i.e. 40% students scored 70% and above in the examination. With such brilliant result, the school has once again proved its dedication to provide quality education to girl students and make them worthy members of our society.

Class X Toppers

It is heartening to note that over the years, there has been a constant surge in performance of the students. The brilliant result of students assumes greater significance because the school, established by Acharya Saumyendra Nath Brahmacharyji in 1995 in one of the most under-developed places of India with the aim of imparting meaningful education to its students coming from remote areas of the state and other places, is dedicated only for girls and is successfully moving ahead to achieve its mission.

DSNS, Deoghar is a unique institution in this part of our country where excellence in every field of learning is guided by the Dev Sangha culture (a Vedic culture and philosophy in expression). Starting from a very humble beginning as a primary school with a vision to be a light post of knowledge, spreading the light of education to every part of Jharkhand, the school has grown as one of the finest English medium school of Jharkhand affiliated to CBSE, New Delhi.
